

The Nursing Living-Learning Community (LLC) is an on-campus based community of students who share academic goals and interests. The AUM Nursing LLC comprised of freshman who have declared Pre-Nursing as their major. Incoming freshmen who meet the minimum requirements and interested in pursuing nursing as a major are encouraged to apply. Students who participate in the NLC take two cohort classes in the fall, one class in the spring and have the opportunity to participate in different activities and forums coordinated by the School of Nursing and the Learning Community program. The benefits of participating in the NLC are: students share a common living space designed to help them find a sense of belonging, experiences that allow students to get to know other freshmen pursuing a major in nursing. Students in the Nursing LLC will make connections with faculty, nursing students and staff who will guide and support students new to AUM in their academic and personal growth toward graduation. Living in an LLC provides students with a chance to expand their views through exploration and collaboration with the School of Nursing.
